A Step Closer On Kaysinger

"GO SIGNAL" — House passage of the public works appropriations bill Tuesday virtually assured the beginning of construction on the Kaysinger Bluff dam shown above in an artist's sketch. The works bill includes a construction fund start of $1 1/2-million for the dam and $1-million for Highway 13 relocation in the area to be impounded. The entire dam and reservoir is a $146-million project. It is one of the few "new starts" included in the bill and has the personal blessing of President Johnson. The above artist's drawing on an aerial photograph of the area is looking upstream on the Osage River from Warsaw, showing how the dam will reach from the high bluff 4,000 feet across the valley. The compacted earth embankment will rise about 100 feet above the river bed. The release gates and power house will be in the concrete spillway section near the left end of the dam. In this view the reservoir will be on the far side of the dam. The bill now goes to the Senate.

In Wake of Earthquake

Fire, Flood New Menace to Japan

NIIGATA, Japan (AP)—Battered and broken by one of the strongest Japanese earthquakes of modern times, Niigata was menaced today by fire and flood.

Police removed 7,350 persons, including 2,000 hospital patients, from the vicinity of petroleum tanks blazing along the waterfront of this big port on the northwest coast, the center of Japan's petroleum industry.

Goldwater's Strength To 677 Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate strength has soared to 677, according to an Associated Press survey. If he hangs on to that total, he will win the Republican presidential nomination with 22 votes to spare.

Fifty-six votes pledged Tuesday by Texas Republicans pushed the Arizona Senator over the top—the 655 mark needed to win the big prize at the Republican National Convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

But after winning in Texas, Goldwater said the job is not done yet. He said he still needs more delegates because of the danger of slippage from among the delegates now on his list.

Goldwater's Texas sweep had been expected, with none of the Lone Star delegates expressing a previous preference for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's newest challenger.

Scranton has picked up 44 delegates since he started his campaign last Friday with 84 first ballot votes in his pocket. But only one, in Pennsylvania, is known to have been a delegate who previously supported Goldwater.

Seventeen of Scranton's new votes have come from state conventions in Maryland and Connecticut, the remainder from delegates who were uncommitted or favored Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who this week threw his support behind Scranton.

Since Scranton's entry into the race, five delegates said they no longer favor Goldwater, including the one in Pennsylvania. But his losses have been more than offset by gains among other delegates who previously listed themselves as uncommitted.

Electric Hairdryer Falls In Bathtub, Electrocutes Bather

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Charles F. Spencer was electrocuted today when a portable hair dryer fell into the bathtub while she was bathing.

Mrs. Spencer, mother of three, was the wife of Kenneth Spencer who founded the Spencer Chemical Co.

She was rushed to St. Luke's Hospital, but was dead on arrival.

The home is in suburban Mission Hills, Kan.

Enters Goldwater Country

Scranton Cheered In St. Louis Stop

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton brought his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination into Goldwater territory today, and was greeted by a crowd of about 200.

The crowd cheered and chanted when the governor and his wife, Mary, stepped from a chartered airliner at Lambert-St. Louis Airport.

However, one banner in the group said: "Welcome to Goldwater country"—an obvious reference to the fact that Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater has won backing from at least 19 of Missouri's 24 delegates to the GOP National Convention.

Scranton will make a luncheon speech to St. Louis area businessmen and at least eight of the state's 24 delegates who Scranton's backers say have "open minds" about the governor.

Scranton will fly later to Denver, Colo.

Uphold Conviction For Tax Evasion

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A U. S. Court of Appeals has upheld the conviction of Kansas City gambler Max Jaben on income tax evasion charges.

Jaben, 56, pleaded no contest on Dec. 2 to one count of a three-count indictment charging evasion of $8,545 in taxes for 1956. He was sentenced to four months in prison followed by 20 months probation.

Jaben contended in his appeal that the statute of limitations precluded prosecution.

Internal Revenue Service agents said they filed the complaint against Jaben on April 15, 1963, the day before the statute took effect.

State Funds Use Plan

Industrial Link In Kaysinger Dam

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A plan to use state funds to aid watershed planning was outlined today for Soil Conservation Service Staff workers.

The suggestion came in a paper by Clifford L. Summers, executive director of the State Water Resources Board. In his absence it was read to the SOS staff conference.

Under the proposal, Summers said, state funds would be placed in funds with the soil conservation service for use in watershed planning.

He said the time also is coming when the state will have to establish priorities for watershed development, based on the economic needs of particular regions.

Col. Miles Wachendorf, Kansas City district engineer, told the conference Tuesday the soil conservation service and the army engineers have not always seen eye to eye but their cooperation is improving as they work together on new soil and water control projects.

Wachendorf cited progress on Osage Basin and other projects, including the $146 million Kaysinger Bluff project above the Lake of the Ozarks. The House approved a Public Works bill

Rosy Outlook

State Budgets Continue Upward

Expanding Economy Boosts Revenues, Survey Indicates

CHICAGO (AP)—State budgets are continuing to grow but this year, at least, legislators are counting more on an expanding economy for increased revenue than they are on tax boosts.

While governors of many states signed new tax laws this year — 22 legislatures were in session — the hopes were that business activity, fed partly by the federal tax cut, would surge upward for the fourth consecutive year.

There is no telling at this time precisely what impact the tax cut will have, but a year ago the Treasury Department estimated that a $10-billion federal reduction would spur investment, consumer spending and employment to a point where state and local governments would reap close to $3 billion extra in taxes.

In 20 states, according to a study by Leon Rothenberg, research director for the Federation of Tax Administrators, income tax receipts will rise automatically as a result of the federal tax cut. In these states, individuals and corporations are allowed deductions on their state income taxes based on their amount of federal income taxes. Thus, lower federal taxes mean lower deductions and higher payment to the states.

An Associated Press survey shows several states raised their income tax withholding rates to bring them in line with this windfall. Included were Massachusetts, Oregon, Alabama and Minnesota, according to information compiled by Commerce Clearing House, Inc., of Chicago, a publisher of topical business news reports.

99 Year Sentence For Torture, Theft

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A circuit court jury sentenced Jack Riley, 36, to 99 years in prison Tuesday in the torture-robery of a St. Louis woman.

The jury found Riley guilty of first degree robbery in connection with the burning of Mrs. Lillian Mosley, 53, on both arms with an electric iron last Aug. 20.

Mrs. Mosley testified that two men entered her home as she was ironing and burned her when she insisted the only money she had was in her purse. They escaped with $50.

Jeff Janger Jr., 29, also is charged, but has not been tried.

National Manpower Policy Plan

Johnson Calls For Cooperation In Face of Changes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—President Johnson called today for the establishment of a national manpower policy through cooperation of labor, management and government.

Johnson said a coordinated policy is urgently needed because the economy faces "vast and troubling changes" during the rest of the decade.

In an address prepared for the annual convention of the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Johnson cited three developments that he said require the establishment of a national manpower policy: The replacement of men by machines, the decline in jobs for the unskilled, and the dramatic growth of the labor force.

"It is time," the President said, "for labor and management and government to cooperate in establishing a national manpower policy — a policy which will assess our future needs and help aim all our programs of training and education — government and private alike — toward filling those needs."

Johnson said existing labor-management committees "will contribute to such a policy," and a recently appointed cabinet committee will "consider the broadest aspects of such a policy."

Beyond that, he said, "I will take further steps, in cooperation with labor and business, to make sure that the dignity and right to labor is not lost in the currents of change; that every American who wants to work, can work; that industry will not falter because it lacks the men it needs."

Khrushchev expressed a desire for closer cooperation with Denmark in agriculture, Krag said. He said the Russians have shown interest in Danish offers to provide equipment for fertilizer plants for the Soviet Union.

WALKER LINKED TO WILLoughby MURDER CASE

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A witness has linked Andrew J. Walker to the murder of Mrs. Patricia Willoughby, slain last Oct. 9, a sheriff said Tuesday.

Officers have been seeking a connection between the Willoughby case and the April 29 slaying of two Platte County women in the same general area north of Kansas City.

Walker has been charged with murdering Mrs. Hattie Biscoe, 83, and her daughter, Mrs. Marion Biscoe, 67, of Camden Point.

Sheriff Frank Maudlin of Clay County said Tuesday two witnesses saw Walker in a jail show-up. One witness definitely identified Walker as the man he saw standing beside Mrs. Willoughby's car the day the young Smithville woman disappeared, Maudlin said.

The other witness said Walker's height and complexion were the same as the man he saw at the car, which was stopped beside the road on the way to Smithville.

Walker, 38, was released from the Missouri prison Sept. 23.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: It's been two years since my husband started to paint our four rooms. The living room is a disgrace. The old paint is peeling off and he has one wall partially scraped, but he still hasn't put a brush to it.

After hours of nagging (which didn't help) I said, "Rich, it's plain to see you don't care much about painting so why don't you repair the broken window on the back porch?" He replied, "You are nothing but a nag. I'll do it when I'm in the mood. Leave me alone."

Tell me, Ann Landers, how can I get my husband to accept his responsibilities in the house? We haven't entertained for two years because I'm ashamed of the way our place looks. Help, please.—D. FEATED.

Dear D.: In the same way that some children become "mother-deaf," some husbands become "wife-deaf." So get smart and save your pipes, Lady.

Quit nagging and hire the work done. Some husbands decide, after paying some outrageous bills for work they could have done themselves, that they can't afford the luxury of procrastination.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 16-year-old daughter has been nagging us for two months and my Mother Nature Aids In Cleaning Water

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP) — The Spencer Chemical Co. lets Mother Nature help it prevent pollution of Spring River.

Spencer's Jayhawk plant near Pittsburg takes three million gallons daily from the river.

All but 65,000 gallons return to the river uncontaminated after flowing through a 55-acre lake that is stocked with fish.

The 65,000 gallons of polluted water flows into two large ponds where it covers 44 acres to a depth of one foot.

Evaporation keeps the water level about even in the ponds.

Dear Macree: A 16-year-old girl and a 17-year-old boy should not be taking a trip together in a trailer yet—even if they are chaperoned by the boy's parents.

Continuous exposure to one another's presence is much too stimulating for teen-agers. What you consider a "no cost" trip could turn out to be mighty expensive.

Dear Ann Landers: The world will not rise or fall on your answer but I would like to know what you think of the following:

Memory Tokens On JFK Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — A baby's shoe, a woman's glove, a religious medal, a lone flower have been placed on the hillside grave.

They rest on the sun-seared grass, along with the berets and caps of fighting men—some of the personal remembrances from the multitude which daily moves slowly and silently past the place where John F. Kennedy is buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

The caps—the deep green beret of the Army Special Forces, the standard Army green of the conventional forces, the forest green of the Marines and the Air Force blue—remain.

But each morning the tributes of the visitors are removed, packed away and sent once a week to the White House. From there they are made available to Mrs. Kennedy, who decides what should be done with them. Some presumably are set aside for the time when a Kennedy memorial is built.

An estimated three million persons have visited the grave. Only a comparative few drop mementos on the grave, but these now total hundreds or thousands.

Some of the tribute objects obviously are brought with the intention of leaving them. Others are spontaneous, like the glove removed and dropped onto the grave by a woman.

A group of pupils from a Richmond, Va., school trooped slowly past. When they were gone, attendants found a five-dollar bill. Clipped to it was a note—contributed to the Kennedy Memorial Library at Cambridge.

There are, of course, the formal floral pieces. Most of them come from organizations, from church groups, from visiting foreign statesmen or diplomatic missions.

But a child passes by and drops a single flower on the grave.

The military mementos started on the day of Kennedy's burial. A sergeant of the Army Special Forces, standing by the grave when the funeral throng was gone, removed his beret and placed it on the mound.

The other services were quick to follow the sergeant's gesture and the caps of soldiers, sailors, Marines and Air Force men joined the green beret.

Winter storms and summer sun and rain weathered the caps, then worked at the fabric. A few days before last Memorial Day, officials of the Military District of Washington decided they needed replacing. This was done.

Topless Bathing Suits Are Sold Fast in Frisco Shop

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"It's—it's unbelievable," gasped shopowner Nasimo Sargis, groping for words. "There's no middle-of-the-stream. It's either shark or 'wow!'"

That was Miss Sargis' reaction after she introduced topless swimsuits in San Francisco.

The first dozen suits were snapped up and another 14 ordered for immediate delivery she said.

St. Francois Jail Slayer Gets 99 Years

HILLSBORO, Mo. (AP)—A Circuit Judge overruled a motion for a new trial and then sentenced ex-convict Gerald Tettambe to 99 years in prison Tuesday.

Tettambe, 25, of St. Louis, was convicted of second degree murder on May 25th in the slaying of a fellow prisoner in the St. Francois County jail at Farmington, Mo.

Other inmates testified that Tettambe and Stanley Dale Johnson beat John Howell, 17, of Doe Run, Mo., and forced him to submit to indignities.

Circuit Judge Edward Everette fixed sentence because Tettambe was tried under the habitual criminal act. He previously had been convicted of crimes 10 times.

Johnson, 20, of Farmington, is awaiting trial on a first-degree murder charge. He currently is serving a two-year prison term at Jefferson City for car theft.

The trial was taken from St. Francois County to Jefferson County on a change of venue.

against, short of the required two-thirds majority.

"Mostly to men," said Miss Sargis, "for their wives. Or at least that's what they said."

Reaction of other San Franciscans to the weekend showing of the latest low in high fashion was immediate, and predictable.

"Nakedness," snapped a clergyman, "almost perversion."

The police department wondered aloud what it would do with the first bare bosomed lass to breach the beach.

Another downtown San Francisco shop placed the suits on sale Tuesday.

Held up by two narrow straps that cross in front and back, the suits were denounced by the clergy as an invitation to lust, a return to paganism, a corruptor of morals and "not very nice."

"Just two straps closer to the moral decay in America," declared the Rev. Jacob Bellings of Oakland's Neighborhood Church.

What do the cops say?

"A touchy, legal subject," said Assistant Police Chief Alfred Arnaud. "Nudity isn't illegal unless it's lewd. This'll have to be settled when they show up on the beaches—and I guess they will."

Capt. Daniel W. Keily, responsible for policing the city beaches, observed that when the first woman appears in the suit "the main police problem will be the riot that occurs. The size of the riot probably depends on how well she's endowed."

They'll be taboo at public pools however, city officials said.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it. A special scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge, small, easy-to-take tablets...special sizes for children and adults.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says "there is no truth in published reports the United States favors Union of Cyprus with Greece."

A statement Tuesday by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who has just returned from an urgent peacekeeping mission to Greece and Turkey, said that the U.S. government is not supporting any specific solution for the Cyprus question. "But the United States does feel, and what I did express in both capitals is that the solution is urgent," Ball added. "That solution should be found by agreement of the parties."

WASHINGTON (AP) — It took more than two weeks for the Boston post office to complete the more than two million "first day of issue" cancellations for the John F. Kennedy memorial postage stamp.

The Post Office Department said Tuesday that although the stamp went on sale May 29, cancellations were not completed until June 15.

The record of 2,003,096 cancellations surpassed the previous record of 1.6 million first-day cancellations of the New York World's Fair stamp issued on April 22.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six maverick Teamsters Union members are preparing to step up their efforts to recover union funds used to defend Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and other union officials involved in criminal trials.

Their attorney, Seymour Spelman, said he plans to add the names of three bonding companies within a few days to a federal court suit already filed against Hoffa and 18 other officials to recover the legal fees.

The amount involved is reported to be $1 million or more.

The union has so far resisted efforts by Spelman, the Labor Department and the Justice Department to divulge how much has been spent to defend Hoffa in a long series of federal trials, including his conviction—now being appealed—on a jury tampering charge.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has introduced a bill to strip federal courts of jurisdiction in reapportionment cases involving the state legislatures.

Thurmond introduced his bill Tuesday, a day after the Supreme Court ruled that both houses of state legislatures must be based on population only.

Giles County Will Cease Segregation

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Giles County next fall will become the first Virginia locality to eliminate segregated schools.

The State Pupil Placement Board Tuesday assigned all 131 Negro pupils in the county to two white schools. The county school board had planned to close the two Negro schools. Giles has a total school enrollment of about 4,500.

The placement board also assigned about 410 other Negro pupils to all-white or predominantly white schools in Virginia. The assignments will mean the first school desegregation in 11 localities.

Half of Virginia's school districts have some desegregation.

Lynda Bird Winding Up Hawaiian Visit

HONOLULU (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson was to return here from her four-day tour of Hawaii's islands today for a state dinner given by Gov. John A. Burns.

The slim, 20-year-old daughter of President Johnson is winding up a visit to the 50th state. Tuesday she toured the 13-mile lip of Kilauea volcano on Hawaii Island and shopped with the aid of a Secret Service escort for a muumuu dress.

Miss Johnson tried on several of the shift dresses in a Kailua-Iona shop and each time turned to the Secret Service escort for his opinion. She finally selected a red muumuu with a sunburst design that the agent had approved.

Graveside Service For Shotgun Victim

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A former Teamsters Union official, Floyd R. Hayes, killed by a shotgun blast in Kansas City last Thursday night, was buried here Tuesday.

A brief graveside ceremony was held. Hayes' widow and a former business partner attended the services. Two carloads of U.S. marshals accompanied the pair from Kansas City.

Hayes, former president of Teamsters Local 41 and former secretary treasurer of Teamsters Council No. 56, was gunned down as he and his wife walked away from a bowling alley. Mrs. Hayes suffered a minor wound.

If View Is Correct Oklahoma Is Smaller

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — About 10,000 square miles of Oklahoma may still be part of Arkansas, if a Tulsa lawyer's view is correct.

Gerald B. Klein told a meeting of community planners that Congress originally set the western boundary of Arkansas at about the present location of Muskogee.

Land west of that was Indian Territory. But, he said, neither the Indians nor the Arkansans settlers liked the arrangement.

The Choctaws took the matter to John C. Calhoun, then secretary of state and the "great compromiser" obligingly moved the line east to Fort Smith and south to the Red River, Klein said.

Then, he said, the Cherokees got Calhoun to extend their boundary north to the Missouri-Kansas border, completing the lines of what is now Oklahoma.

But, Klein said, Calhoun's actions were executive orders and legally the original congressional act still stands.

Fourth Child Lost Through an Accident

HARTFORD, Ala. (AP) — The Huey Chandlers faced a new tragedy today—the loss of a fourth child by accident.

CATAPULT MARKET IS A DUD—Four Sycamore High School students in Montgomery, Ohio, jointly decided on a project for their Latin class. Although Latin projects are generally term papers and the like, the boys decided to think big. So, using ancient Roman designs, they constructed a 1,500-pound replica of a catapult. No nails were used and the only concession to the 20th century is the garbage can cover stuck on the firing arm. The builders got an A for their project, then looked hard for a buyer. The hunt was in vain, so they dismantled the big weapon and burned it.

Finley Not A Tightwad, Fans Agree

KANSAS CITY (AP)—You can call Charles O. Finley almost anything and find baseball fans who will agree with you but no one should call him a tightwad.

The Kansas City Athletics owner Tuesday tore up the contracts of three of his ballplayers and wrote new ones with substantial salary increases. He said his shortstop, Wayne Causey, and pitchers Orlando Pena and John Wyatt had earned pay increases. Causey is hitting a lusty .320, Wyatt has saved a dozen games and won four himself in relief, and Pena leads the league in strikeouts with 80 and has a 7-5 won-lost record. But baseball salaries are traditionally based on what the player did the year before and owners seldom do any wholesale contract rewriting in mid-season.

This is the same Charles O. Finley who is suing Kansas City, asking the city council be forced to tear up its 4-year contract and reinstate an abortive agreement he signed for $1 a year only minutes before the previous council went out of office.

And it is the same embattled man who twice tried to get the American League to move the baseball club out of Kansas City because, he said, the baseball department of Charles O. Finley would go bankrupt if he had to stay here.

And in recent weeks this same unpredictable man spent between $350,000 and half a million dollars for untried schoolboy talent. He gave Claude Lockwood, a Massachusetts youngster, $100,000; forked over $75,000 each to pitchers Lee (Blue Moon) Odum of Macon, Ga., and James (Catfish) Hunter of North Carolina. Another $25,000 went to Jack Frost Smith, a pitcher from Jacksonville, Fla., and "substantial" but unspecified bonuses to Donald Bushhorn of Kansas City; Gary Funtas, LaQuint, Calif., outfielder, and several others.

No one expects Finley to go bankrupt but the fans are staying away from Municipal Stadium in droves.

Poor attendance can't all be charged to Finley's reputedly bad public relations. His baseball club is in last place and has been a perennial near the bottom finisher.

But Charley can't be called a quitter. While tossing the money around, he fired his manager Ed Lopat and installed Mel McGaha.

Some of his moves may pay off. The A's won their fifth straight last night.

Rains Still Hurt College World Series

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Joe Ferris, Maine and a day of rain has been the winning combination for the upset-minded Yankee Conference champions in the College World Series.

Simmons, 7-5, allowed only four hits, losing his shutout when Rusty Staub homered for the Colts in the eighth.

Bob Veale started in place of the ailing Bob Friend for the Pirates, scattered nine hits, struck out 12 and drove in the winning run with a single in the second inning after Bill Mazeroski doubled.

Veale tied the Pirates' single-game strikeout mark for the second time this season. Babe Adams fanned 12 in 1909.

Meanwhile, the National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago Cubs 4-2 and moved one game in front of the San Francisco Giants, who lost to Cincinnati 9-4. Elsewhere, St. Louis snapped a five-game losing streak by walloping Houston 7-1 and Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 2-1.

John Roseboro doubled home Tommy Davis for a 2-0 Dodger lead in the fourth, but the Braves closed the gap in the sixth on doubles by Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron.

Willie Davis then connected for his two-run triple in the seventh and wrapped up the three-run outburst against Spahn by scoring on a single by Maury Wills. Drysdale, bringing his record to 9-5, checked the Braves on four hits.

Cards Find Way Back To Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals found their way back Tuesday night onto the victory road, a path the Kansas City A's have followed with only one exception since Mel McGaha took the wheel.

The Cardinals shrugged off five straight defeats and 19 in their last 25 contests with a 7-1 triumph over the Houston Colts in Houston.

In Detroit, the A's grabbed a two-night doubleheader from the Tigers, 7-4, and 6-0, to run their winning streak to five, all gained under McGaha after losing their first contest under the new manager.

A six-run fourth inning in the opener after two were out gave Diego Segui his victory, although he needed ninth inning help from newly acquired Wes Stock. Segui sparked the run-scoring with a three-run double. Jim Gentile pitched in with a solo home run.

Ted Bowsfield became the first pitcher to blank the Tigers this season as he scattered five hits.

Bill Bryan's bat supplied the punch as the catcher drove in five runs with two homers.

Ken Boyer and Curt Simmons combined to bring the Cardinals out of the doldrums.

Boyer drove in three runs with a single, double, triple and homer, and Simmons turned in a four-hitter for his seventh victory against five defeats.

The only run off him was Rusty Staub's homer in the seventh.

Julian Javier pitched in with three hits and two stolen bases and Curt Flood, Dick Groat and newly acquired Lou Brock each had two of the Cardinals' 15 safeties.

The Cardinals will send Ray Washburn (2-4) against Ken Johnson (5-5) of the Colts in the finale of the four game set tonight.

Orlando Pena (7-5) will try to keep the A's on the move when he faces the Tigers and former Kansas City hurler Dave Wickensham (8-5) tonight.

Vansell Whiffs 18 Batters In Babe Ruth Win

Mike Vansell fired an 18-strikeout no-hitter as Machinists Local 1153 thumped Optimist 8-1 in the American League nightcap of Babe Ruth play Tuesday night at Centennial Park. Western Auto took an easy 7-0 win over New Car Dealers in the opening game.

Vansell's gem was the most outstanding pitching performance thus far in the season as he struck out 18 men in six innings. Optimist got men on base by means of errors and walks and managed a lone run. Ralph Strader took the mound loss.

At bat, Vansell went 2-for-4 and scored two runs.

Machinists had four hits and two errors. Optimist had no hits and four errors.

Jim Vinson and Mike DeLozier both hit doubles for Western Auto and collected three hits and four runs between them to lead the Western Auto team to their second win in three starts.

DeLozier was the winning hurler and Steve Morris was the loser. The game ended after five innings.

Western Auto had five hits and one error. New Car Dealers turned in one hit and three errors.

Action Tonight

S & M Athletic Goods meets Machinists Local 1153 in the first game tonight and Team No. 5 tangles with the New Car Dealers in the nightcap.

Games rained out Monday night will be made up Thursday night. Brown's Supply meets Walker Publishing Company in the opener and Adco and Rotary mix in the second game.

League officials announce season tickets are still on sale by the boys of each team and are available by special service if you telephone TA 6-4555.

Player agent Al Hall reminded parents to turn in the birth certificate number of their sons to the team manager. This is an important step to make the league eligible to compete in district and state tournaments, Hall said.

The handicap trophy was won by James Linwill, Polo, Mo., who missed one rock to keep him from a perfect score of 100, in the four sets of 25 targets he hit 25-24-25 for 99. Second place was won by L. McVeay, Kansas City, who knocked down 98 rocks. His four scores were 25-24-24-9.

There were 30 shooters in the handicap shoot and 20 in the trophy shoot.

The umpires' attorney, John J. Reynolds, disclosed at a news conference:

1. That Giles, in behalf of the National League, requested that all of the umpire association officers, plus the National League three-man crew working the All-Star game, meet with the NL Executive Committee July 6.

2. That, pending this parley, the umpires "suspended" their July 3 terminal date for negotiations.

3. That the conclusions of the NL Executive Committee—composed of John Holland of the Chicago Cubs, Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Reds and John McHale of the Milwaukee Braves—will be reported to a full National League meeting prior to Aug. 15.

4. That if the executive committee flatly rejects the umpire pitch for the $300 yearly pension setup "we'll have to decide our next step."

The National League Umpires Association has no counterpart in the American League, whose umpires this spring got a boost from $150 to $250 yearly in their pension plan.

Kansas City Takes Pair From Detroit 7-4, 6-0

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

in the American League Tuesday night, whipping Detroit 7-4 and 6-0.

Now that Mel McGaha has gotten a rise out of the Kansas City Athletics, will he get a raise from Charles Finley?

McGaha, who succeeded Eddie Lopat as manager, has been on the job only five days, but in that time the Athletics have compiled a five-game winning streak after losing the first under their new field boss.

The surging A's stormed to within one game of ninth place — been amazing. When he assumed control of the Athletics last week, McGaha said he planned nothing drastic.

A five-game Athletics winning streak isn't drastic; it's down-right shocking. The flurry marks the first time since last July Kansas City has won more than three in a row. At that time, the string also ran to five.

If the present streak is extended to six tonight in Detroit, Finley may take another look at McGaha's contract.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Chicago maintained its slim hold on first place by splitting with Baltimore, the White Sox winning the first 5-0 and losing the second 3-1.

New York outlasted Boston 7-5 after dropping a 6-5 decision, Cleveland outslugged Minnesota 5-3 and Los Angeles got by Washington 7-5 in 10 innings.

Bill Bryan propelled the Athletics to their second-game triumph, driving in five runs with two homers. He connected with one on in the fourth and with two on in the ninth. Ted Bowsfield, scattering eight hits, became the first pitcher to shut out the Tigers this season.

Kansas City scored six runs after two were out in the fourth inning of the opener. Pitcher Diego Segui sent three of the runs across with a bases-loaded double. He had a two-hitter until the ninth when the Tigers scored three times.

Bill Freehan, who homered in the fourth, singled home two runs in the inning.

Juan Pizarro limited the Orioles to three hits, all singles, in the first game. He received home run support from Pete Ward in the sixth and Floyd

Ball Player Dies

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP) — Richard B. (Dick) Culler, a High Point businessman and former professional baseball player, died Tuesday night. He was 49.

Culler played pro ball for 15 years, five of them in the major leagues. He played for the Chicago White Sox, Milwaukee Braves, New York Giants and Brooklyn Braves.

Robinson in the seventh. The victory was Pizarro's eighth against three defeats.

Steve Barber came back and checked the White Sox on four hits in the nightcap. Barber brought his record to 3-3, pitching his first complete game this season. He also drove in Baltimore's third run.

Joe Pepitone knocked in six runs in the Yankees' double-header, four in the second-game victory. Included was a two-run homer in the fifth. Tom Tresh batted in the other three runs, two on a Homer in the seventh. Their hitting brought Whitey Ford his ninth straight triumph since losing on opening day.

Frank Malzone's two-run Homer in the eighth inning won the opener for the Red Sox. He connected after Jim Bouton walked Dick Stuart. Ed Bressoud drove in two runs for Boston, one on a second inning Homer. Roger Maris homered in the eighth for New York.

Leon Wagner slammed an eighth-inning home run that broke up a see-saw battle between the Indians and the Twins. The Indians had taken leads on Bob Chance's two-run Homer in the fourth and a bases-empty blast by Woodie Held in the seventh. Rich Rollins homered in the fifth and Frank Kosztro in the eighth for Minnesota.

The Angels also won with a home run. Ed Kirkpatrick connected with one on in the 10th after relief pitcher Ron Kline committed an error with two out. John Kennedy homered for Washington.

Bill Freehan, who homered in the fourth, singled home two runs in the inning.

Juan Pizarro limited the Orioles to three hits, all singles, in the first game. He received home run support from Pete Ward in the sixth and Floyd

Abrupt End To Show By Garry Moore

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"I don't know who those geniuses are going to put on Tuesday nights next year," said comedian Alan King, "but it's going to be a very lonely Tuesday."

He referred to the demise, after six years, of CBS' "Garry Moore Show," whose swan song Tuesday night was bright, amusing, sentimental and sad.

Moore, speaking of the sudden cancellation of the show, minced no words and showed a bit of resentment. The studio audience expressed its feelings with loud and long clapping, cheers and whistles for the star and members of the show's family—Dwight Kirby, Marion Lorne, Carol Burnett, King and Allen Funt whose "Candid Camera" was a spin-off of the show. Moore was close to tears at the end.

The abrupt dropping of the show is a real mystery. It has been consistently, from 1958 on, a lively, joyous variety hour, invariably in good taste and with imaginative production numbers.

It will indeed be a lonely Tuesday night for a lot of people.

The CBS programmers will replace it next season with "The Nurses," moved over from another night. Hospital drama is no real substitute for people who enjoy the comedy-variety shows.

Moore, as often has been pointed out, isn't a terribly funny comedian and he can neither dance nor sing. But he projects as a fine, kindly man and works well with a lot of people of diverse talents. The result has been, usually, an entertaining hour. The show will really be missed.

Tuesday night's re-run of "Mr. Novak" on NBC was an earnest little tale about the triumph of a fine teacher over his personal problems, mostly involving alcohol.

It was interesting to compare that serious-minded show with the trite half-hour comedy called "Hey Teacher," on CBS Monday night, first of a summer series replacing "The Lucy Show." The program was made as a pilot for a projected series but never was sold.

Dawyne Hickman played a scared young teacher on his first day with his third graders strictly for laughs. The students were smarter and tougher than teacher; the smartest man in the whole school was the janitor and the hero was so inadequate he hid in a closet as the kids trooped into the classroom.

Both programs were made about the same time. One, understandably, got nowhere. The other was a mild success. The only difference and it was a very big one, was the very different treatment.

Panamanian Picture'Gringos Out' Sign Is Gone, Welcome Mat Out for Yank

PANAMA (AP)—The "gringos out" sign has disappeared from Boly Khan's cocktail lounge and the welcome mat is out for the Yankee visitor. But business is slack.

"It isn't the same and probably never will be again," says a patron.

That about sums up the picture in this deceptively tranquil-looking capital six months after the Canal Zone violence between Panamanians and Americans that claimed more than 20 lives.

A subtle but distinct change has muted Panama's once sprightly, colorful moods. There is an undercurrent of tension.

Job Leaves Procedures For Guard

Missouri employers, National Guardsmen and reservists were reminded today of procedures to be followed in granting leaves of absence for summer military training tours.

The joint responsibilities of employers and employees were outlined by James W. Higgins, Kansas City Regional Director for the U.S. Labor Department's Office of Veterans Reemployment Rights. He directed his remarks to 2,057 Air National Guardsmen, 8,226 Army National Guardsmen, reservists, who will be taking their training at summer encampments or will take inactive duty training at weekly or monthly drill periods, and their employers. Most will be affected by the job protection provisions of the amended Universal Military Training and Service Act, Higgins said.

The guardsman or reservist who wants his job protected under the Act must request military leave and the employer must grant the leave, according to Higgins.

Guardsmen and reservists are obligated to return to their jobs promptly upon completion of service and employers are obligated to reinstate them with such seniority, status, pay rate and vacation rights as they would have had, had they not been away from their jobs, Higgins emphasized.

Employers are not permitted to require guardsmen or reservists to use their regularly earned vacation time for training duty, according to Higgins. Copies of the Act are available at his office, 1112 Federal Office Building, 911 Walnut St., Kansas City, Mo.

Industrial Output Now Holding Up

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With summer officially due next week the nation's industrial output is holding reassuringly high.

Government statistics mostly cover only the period up to mid-May. But the news from key sectors of industry gives June high billing.

Steel mill activity is slipping only slightly, with summer prospects better than usual.

Auto production and sales are continuing around record levels with another big spurt set for the autumn.

New orders for other durable goods are strong, promising brisk activity in the factories for awhile. Soft goods makers are looking for an advance in coming weeks and months as the impact of the federal income tax cut spreads.

Last year saw a leveling off in industrial output during the summer, with the Federal Reserve Board's index even taking a slight dip, leading the cautious to wonder if the business upswing was coming to a halt.

But the steady gains last fall and winter, and the upsurge in April brought the industrial output index to an impressive high. The pace was faster than predicted at the start of the year.

What businessmen are wondering now is if this momentum will carry through the summer months, or whether the usual hot weather doldrums will give another pause in the 40-month business advance.

Two of the big bulwarks of the spring gains, autos and steel, seem sure to take a siesta.

Other segments of the economy are counting on offsetting these seasonal slowdowns with better than usual summer business. Soft goods and the widespread recreation and vacation industries are especially hopeful.

Both slowdowns and gains will vary widely by regions.

The Southwest and the Pacific coast are counting on growing electronics and aerospace industries to keep their economy mounting.

The older industrial centers in the Midwest and Northeast also have seen a better industrial mix in recent years, so that a summer slowdown in steel won't be as all-important as it once was.

For the national economy as a whole, the question still is how much of a summer slowdown will develop.

The optimists hold the best is yet to come. Some of the cautious think the trend will still be upward, but that the fastest growth may already have been felt.

Cabool, Liberty Get Urban Planning Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $23,000 grant to aid Cabool and Liberty, Mo., in urban planning has been made by the Urban Renewal Administration to the Missouri Division of Commerce and Industrial Development.

Cost of the planning at Liberty is estimated at $24,128, that at Cabool at $10,385, with the federal grant covering two-thirds of the amount in each case.

Security Tightens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon security officers, inspecting nightly to make sure all safes containing classified documents are closed, leave this reminder:

"Lonesome?
"Like excitement?
"Want to be noticed?
"Want to meet new people?
"Then—just leave your safe open!!!"

FLEE THE FIGHTING — Laotian refugees, carrying their possessions, stream into a camp for displaced persons. The southeast Asian nation, where fighting has broken out again, has been plagued by political troubles since gaining independence in 1954.

EDITORIALSButton Up Your Home...

Coincidental with a rash of amateur and professional burglaries in and around Sedalia the past week, is an announcement that the Missouri Police Chiefs Association will observe "Burglary Prevention Week" beginning next Sunday.

Perhaps the burglars want to get things cleaned up before the impending pressure is applied. During this special observance a rash of burglaries would be embarrassing to the authorities.

Not only that but property owners whose premises are invaded will be victims of vexation when they add up losses and try to blame the police for their misfortune.

A widely held belief is that protection of property is the sole responsibility of the police. This just isn't so.

The individual, and his neighbors, have a responsibility to discourage or prevent burglaries. Professionals doing the "truck hustle" have been known to rent large vans, pose as movers at houses whose occupants are on vacation, and strip the place to the foundations during daytime. Loners can do a first-class moving job at night, too, after casing the premises. One professional says the simplest way to do this is to pose as a door-to-door salesman, even inquiring of neighbors when the people in the vacant house will be home.

Now that we are in the prime season for vacations, it might be noted that national estimates indicate burglaries occur at the rate of one every 35 seconds. Will your home be next?

Rightfully, the police ask public cooperation to reduce the 900,000 burglaries committed annually throughout the country. They suggest that persons who leave their homes make sure all doors and windows are securely locked. During evening hours make your home look "lived in" by leaving a light burn. However, if it's still on in the daytime, you might as well send out invitations. A cheap photoelectric switch is good insurance.

Keep garage doors closed. An empty one is a sure give-way of absence. Notify your neighbor of your leaving; leave a key with him so he can check your home periodically. Discontinue milk and newspaper deliveries. Notify the police department when you are leaving for any lengthy period, and when you expect to return.

Burglars usually follow the line of least resistance, so button up your home is the advice of police and even a suggestion by professional burglars who have reformed.

Washington Merry-Go-RoundKing of Greece on Cyprus Crisis

By DREW PEARSON

ATHENS — At the height of the Cyprus crisis, with Turkish troops poised for a landing on that controversial island, I interviewed the new, young king of Greece.

I found him to have some forthright, seemingly reasonable ideas on the bitter dispute between Turkey and Greece. He urged that the bloodshed between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots be stopped immediately, that the U.N. be given enough power to stop the fighting and that the U.N. remain in Cyprus as long as necessary—which President Makarios isn't enthusiastic about.

King Constantine also urged that Cyprus become a truly independent state, administered by majority rule—which the Turks won't like. But he urged full protection for the Turkish Cypriots, and full compensation for any Turks who choose to leave the island.

Finally he was careful to urge that his proposed Cyprus solution "not be a victory or defeat for anyone, but rather a victory for better understanding."

Obviously this was meant as a conciliatory gesture toward Greece's neighbor and NATO ally—Turkey.

The interview took place in the royal palace in Athens in the large panelled room which had served as his father's office. The 24 year old monarch wore the white uniform of the Greek army and apologized for being so formal. "I had some palace chores to perform this morning," he explained.

Though Constantine isn't much older than the average American college graduate, he is poised, charming, has already learned the knack of making visitors feel at home.

I inquired first about his fiancee, Princess Anne Marie of Denmark and the royal wedding, which will be the most important in 68 years. Not since 1896 has a reigning monarch, Victor Emmanuel of Italy, married the daughter of a king, Princess Elena of Montenegro.

"Your late father once told me that the children of royalty had difficulty finding wives and husbands because of the dwindling number of royal families," I said. "Did you find this to be the case?"

"I think that is generally true," his majesty replied. "But it was not true in my case."

Royal Courtship

"I first met Anne Marie in the summer of 1959 but she was just a little girl in short dresses then and I didn't pay too much attention to her. My father didn't say anything at the time but later he told me that he had felt she was the girl for me. A couple of years later I saw her picture and made an excuse to go to Denmark. From that moment I decided I would do my best to persuade her to marry me. And it's been that way ever since."

"Your wedding," I said, "will be the occasion for visits to Athens of crowned heads of state. Your late father once told me how when he was stricken with appendicitis during the state visit of President De Gaulle, you had awakened De Gaulle at 7 a.m., very sleepy-eyed, and carried on for the king."

"Did he tell you all that?" said King Constantine, amused, "well it was true that President De Gaulle was quite sleepy, but he was most understanding."

"After my father was off the operating table and out of the anesthetic, I went to the French embassy. I had a hard time getting in because they didn't know who I was. De Gaulle came to the door in his pajamas. He had to speak English which he doesn't like to do. He was very sympathetic. We attended a luncheon later in the day where I said a few words and that was about all there was to it."

Training for a King

"However," continued his majesty, "my father had coached me on this sort of thing since the age of ten. He put me in that chair over there in the corner while he held an audience. Later he went away on a trip and put me in his job as regent. He told me that some day I would have to do this and I should learn now."

"When my father became king he was a naval officer and the youngest son, with no training for the throne. So he was determined that I not experience his handicap."

"Most Americans," I said, "do not realize the part which the king of Greece must play in the process of government. Could you explain this?"

"Greece has a 'crowned democracy,'" replied the young monarch, "which perhaps is a better translation than 'constitutional monarchy'. This means that the sovereign must be non-political and must unify the process of government with particular attention to balance and stability."

"When I conclude that a government has lost the confidence of the people; or when parliament has voted no-confidence in the government, then I can suspend parliament and call a general election. In either case I—that is the sovereign—must call a general election within thirty to forty days."

"This is a safeguard for the preservation of democracy."

"The sovereign also has the power to name the prime minister, who must then, of course, secure the support of the parliament."

Having in mind the fact that relations between two important NATO members, Greece and Turkey were strained over Cyprus, I asked about the attitude of Greece towards the United Nations and NATO.

"We are strong for NATO and the United Nations," King Constantine replied, "and we support both because they help preserve peace. The Greek navy is constantly maneuvering with your Sixth Fleet and is an important force in policing the Mediterranean. Greece has committed more troops to NATO per capita than any other member of the alliance—twelve divisions—and we also spend a higher proportion of our revenue on our military forces than any other member of NATO—half our budget revenue."

"You Must Remember the Poor Kid Grew Up Without Love!"The World Today*Broader Protection for Individuals

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—In two tremendous decisions this week the Supreme Court broadened its protection of individuals against self-incrimination when in trouble with either the federal or state governments. It ruled:

1. The Constitution's Fifth Amendment protection—that a witness can refuse to give evidence he fears might incriminate him—applies to both state and federal proceedings.

2. Testimony of a witness promised immunity from prosecution by a state if he does testify in a state court cannot then be used to prosecute him in a federal court, and vice versa.

The Constitution's Bill of Rights adopted in 1791—including the Fifth Amendment—had been insisted upon by the states as protection for them and their citizens against the powerful, central, federal government.

For more than 100 years the Supreme Court reasoned this Bill of Rights applied to the federal government only, not to the states, although the 14th Amendment had been added to the Constitution in 1868.

This amendment, adopted three years after the Civil War, was intended to protect citizens, at that time particularly Negroes, from encroachment on their constitutional rights by al or state governments.

It said in part: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

In short, national citizenship was paramount to state citizenship. Eventually but slowly the court began to overlap the 14th Amendment with parts of the Bill of Rights to protect citizens from unconstitutional state actions.

It said in part: "No friend of mine has heart block. His pulse is about 48. Can he be cured?"

A — Heart block comes in different sizes. First degree heart block is seen in athletes and is not an evidence of heart disease. No treatment of this type heart block is required. Second and third degree heart block may cause fainting. The pulse count is usually about 45. The severity of this condition varies. Although there is no cure, treatment with isoproterenol is very effective. Even better is the electronic pacemaker that can now be implanted under the skin of the abdomen.

Q — My doctor tells me I have an enlarged heart, but he did not prescribe anything for it. Is it serious?

A — Are you sure your doctor didn't say that you were just naturally big-hearted? Enlargement of the heart may be due to a leaky valve, persistent high blood pressure, toxic hyperthyroidism and chronic lung diseases such as bronchitis or emphysema. The severity of this condition varies. Although there is no cure, treatment could save your sight, you should see an eye doctor without delay.

Q — I get piercing pains through my ears that last about a minute five or six times a day. What could cause these pains and what can I do to stop them?

A — Since an infection in your middle ear would cause continuous pain, your intermittent pain is probably some form of neuralgia (possibly following an attack of shingles involving the head or neck), or a referred pain from arthritis in the vertebrae of the neck, a dental abscess, poor dental occlusion, or, if you have lost all your teeth, habitually leaving your dental plate out of your mouth. If the pains persist you should have a thorough physical checkup to determine the cause.

The Mature ParentToo Young to Go Alone?

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our son, 8, has been invited to visit some former neighbors of ours when school is over. He grew up with their youngest boy and has greatly missed him since the family moved away. But I think that he is too young to make the overnight train and 3-hour bus trip by himself. His father thinks he can take care of himself but I think he's too young.

Answer: Arrangements can be made with conductors, porters and the Travelers' Aid people to help him take care of himself. But don't let yourself be pushed to a decision before you are ready to make it. Agree to listen to all your husband's and son's arguments in behalf of the trip. In exchange, ask for the time you need to come to your agreement or non-agreement with them.

But don't let yourself be pushed to a decision before you are ready to make it. Agree to listen to all your husband's and son's arguments in behalf of the trip. In exchange, ask for the time you need to come to your agreement or non-agreement with them.

They will both be relieved by your reassuring information.

Only, for heaven's sake, don't let them know you know it. Our men folk's pride in their power to conquer all circumstances makes it very difficult for them to admit any doubts of it. You can expect a lot of affectionate, patronizing ridicule as "fussy" mother when you produce your relieving information. Laugh with them.

It is part of woman's love for men to feel the fears which they are too proud and strong to dare to feel for themselves.

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — When I look at a street light at night there seems to be a halo around it. Sometimes there is a pain in my right eye. What could cause this?

A — If you see the halos without looking through spectacles or window glass, you probably have glaucoma. This could cause pain in one or both eyes. Since more blindness in persons over 40 is caused by glaucoma than any other disease, and since early recognition and treatment could save your sight, you should see an eye doctor without delay.

Hard to Measure

Critical Ghost of Election Is Personal Voter Feeling

EDITOR'S NOTE — In some elections there seems to be a personal feeling overhanging the outcome. Here, from studies of voter actions in past elections, is a yardstick to measure the racial issue in the upcoming election. This is the second of four articles in a series on voting analysis.

By JOHN BARBOUR
A.P. Science Writer
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—

Perhaps the darkest part of the shadow cast by the American voter when he steps into the polling booth is his personal prejudice—his dislikes, his hates.

These are the critical ghosts of an election—the voter's strong feelings about a situation or an element of the candidate's personality.

In 1960, it was John F. Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion. In other years before that the list had included questions of divorce, religion or personality traits.

In 1964, a critical question underlying the election may be the public attitude on race, integration and civil violence.

Such an issue is ghostly only because it is hard to measure. The voter's prejudices are seldom plumb—they are guessed at.

The Democratic and Republican parties reflect this. Says Prof. Angus Campbell of HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judy Garland first met Mickey Rooney in its classrooms. Betty Grable was a student, and so was Donald O'Connor. And so were Natalie Wood, Anita Louise, Connie Stevens, Jill St. John, Yvette Mimieux, Debra Paget, Tuesday Weld, Sue Lyon, Helen Grayco, Jimmy Boyd, Molly Bee, Annette Funicello and a flock of other Mouseketeers.

All of them and hundreds more have called Hollywood Professional School their alma mater during its 40 years at 5400 Hollywood Blvd. A new class of 70 seniors will be graduating today, but not all will be able to attend the ceremonies.

The student body president, former Mouseketeer Cubby O'Brian, won't be present to deliver his valedictory. He is opening with his band in Las Vegas tonight, an understudy is standing by to read his speech. Understudies are provided for all school functions—in case students get jobs and can't show up.

"We run an educational workshop," explains Bertha Mann, executive director. "We have no Mickey Mouse courses. Our students are drilled in fundamentals from 8:45 to 12:45 each morning. Those who have to work at studios in the morning can come for tutoring in the afternoon."

"We have no athletics, no cafeteria, no hotel or boarding department. We are strictly an academic day school."

The measure of its success: it was the only private school among 15 high schools in the Los Angeles area to be cited by the University of California for the high scholarship of former students.

Principal Mary Anderssen refuted the notion that child performers are not Phi Beta Kappa types.

"The professional child is extremely bright," said she. "Many of them are straight A students. They present no discipline problems. They want to project a good image of themselves."

Rita Hamlin, 1010 Crescent Drive, found nothing interesting in the trip over to Columbia because it rained most of the way. Rita is in Crowder City of DeWitt County and she plans to seek either the office of city clerk or police official. Her political party, Rita states, is the Nationalists. Her classes are journalism, police officers and state patrol and she is seeking the Scott County while at Girls State and she would like to be a police officer or sheriff. Her classes are peace officials and journalism.

Linda Bales, Houstonia, wrote that her first impression of Girls State was that she was going to have a lot of fun, but also learn more about the government of the United States.

Janet Dieckmann, Route 1, Sedalia, found that Stephens College has a very nice campus and dormitory, but she was rather confused and frightened by so many new faces. She soon made friends, though, and found that the girls were fun to learn to know. Janet's classes are law and chorus and she has aimed high, she wants to be a senator or representative.

There are 695 girls attending, according to Mrs. Perry Compton, New Florence, Girls State director, and this is the 23rd session. Missouri Girls State is staffed with volunteer personnel.

Graduations Mark Historic Stages of Desegregation

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Graduation exercises in some Southern high schools this year mark not only the educational pivot point for students but also a historic stage of desegregation.

Three Negroes were graduated from formerly all-white schools in Birmingham, Ala.—a significant first for what was the nation's big racial battleground only a year ago.

Negroes for the first time were among the graduating classes in some Southern high schools. No accurate count can be obtained on over-all Negro and white graduation figures since some school systems keep no racial breakdown.

But a survey showed the percentage of Negroes graduating from formerly all-white high schools in the South was very small.

There have been no unusual problems in the classrooms and the Negro graduates often are among the top students scholastically.

In Little Rock, Ark., where seven years ago federal troops enforced the initial desegregation, a Negro girl was graduated with highest honors and was named a presidential scholar.

The girl, Jacquelyn Faye Evans, also was named to the National Honor Society.

She had an A-plus average in her final year at Little Rock Hall High, a predominantly white school.

Asked if she had any trouble because of her race, she said: "Not very much trouble; in fact, none to speak of."

Did she get a better education at the mostly white school?

"I think so, but there is no way I could prove it," she said.

In Tampa, Fla., Willie Strawter, 17, was the first Negro to graduate from a desegregated school—Thomas Jefferson High. He was the school's only Negro, transferring during his junior year.

School officials said Strawter was an excellent pupil, with an A average. He has been accepted by Stetson University at De Land, Fla., for the fall term and plans to major in some branch of science.

"As far as getting along with the other students, everything was fine," he said of his high school experience.

"My only problem was with myself. I had to adjust to the way they did things."

An example of the Negro-white student ratio is provided in Arkansas where 20 Negroes are among 1,516 graduates this year. Central High in Little Rock, where Negroes first attended under federal guard, has white graduates.

graduates in formerly white eight Negro graduates and 602. In 1963, there were 10 Negro Arkansas schools.
